TIENTSIN (AP) — U.S. Marines today called off their search for seven marines held prisoner by a band of Chinese to permit a truce headquarters team to negotiate for their release. The Marine Corps has been scouring the country north of Chinwangtao since the detachment was captured by a band of 80 armed Chinese a week ago.

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Mitchell told the Commons this afternoon he would not instruct industrial disputes commissioners how they were to proceed in negotiations. William Irvine, C.C.F., Cariboo, had asked the minister whether he would instruct Chief Justice Gordon Sloan of British Columbia, commissioner in a dispute of hard-rock miners, to negotiate on an industry-wide rather than an individual mine basis.

Boy, 14, Accused Of Murders, Says He Feels Like It

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A second death was charged today to Albert Jones, 14-year-old schoolboy, who was quoted by one of his alleged victims of assault as saying: "I just feel like killing sometimes."

District Attorney J. M. McPherson filed a murder charge against the youth Thursday in the death of Patricia Ann Crandall, 15, and said he would make it a double charge as a result of the death from bullet wounds of Mrs. Harold J. Nielsen.

Mrs. Nielsen, a housewife, died Thursday night after Jones previously had been charged with attempting to murder her. McPherson quoted the youth as admitting he had shot her in the back last Tuesday as she turned to get him some cookies and a glass of water.

The district attorney also said Jones had confessed to strangling the Crandall girl in her home, setting fire to the house and walking away after the flames had begun to burn her hair.

CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT
Jones was accused in other charges filed Thursday of attempted murder of Mrs. Nielsen's husband and assault with intent to murder their daughter and a neighbor's child.

McPherson said the frail-appearing accused youth had confessed.

Tying up Mrs. Nielsen's 21-year-old daughter, Betty, and a neighbor, Barbara Searle, 6, and gagging them by stuffing apricots into their mouths and knotting handkerchiefs over their lips.

Firing a pistol shot which ripped through the shirt sleeve of H. J. Nielsen when he rushed home to the rescue of his wife, daughter and the neighbor child.

Betty Nielsen said Jones told her before the rescue that he just sometimes felt like killing, got "the urge to do something like this every now and then."

Strike Against Prices Put Off As Parley Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor leaders in the United States laid aside their strike weapon for the time being today in favor of trying other means to push prices down and wages up.

The C.I.O., pointing to rising living costs, said a round of wage increases is due again, but it proposed that President Truman call a labor-management conference to fix new pay rates and to stabilize the national economy.

This position, plus a pledge from C.I.O. president Philip Murray that his unions will respect existing contracts, was announced after a meeting of the C.I.O.'s executive board.

It came only a few days after A.F.L. president William Green had cautioned U.S. workers in a Detroit speech that strikes now would be unwise.

UP 40 PER CENT

The C.I.O. board said that in the two months since Congress started revival of the Office of Price Administration "there has been a rise of essential living costs of approximately 40 per cent," 25 per cent of it in the last two weeks since the O.P.A. expired. The union's statement called for nationwide buyers' strikes with consumers refraining "where possible—individually and in organized fashion—from avoidable purchases."

Mr. Murray told reporters the C.I.O. has little hope that Congress will pass an adequate price control revival law or that, if it does, the O.P.A. would be able to administer it effectively.

Chinese Killed Trying To Get Hat Under Streetcar

A 75-year-old Chinese gardener, Fong Gung Yin, who lived alone at 739 Pembroke Street, died in Jubilee Hospital at 10.30 today, three hours after being crushed beneath a streetcar on Douglas Street near Pembroke Street.

Death of the Chinese was the fifth fatality from a traffic accident in Victoria this year.

The streetcar was on the Hillside-Gonzales run, and police said it was driven by E. S. Fox, 2747 Prior Street. It was traveling south on Douglas Street at the time.

Witnesses told police the accident occurred when Fong tried to retrieve his straw hat which had blown under the street car.

One witness, Dorothy Ward, 684 Burnside Road, said the Chinese had crossed in front of the tram, which had stopped to pick up passengers, and his hat had blown off his head and rolled underneath the front wheels. He was said to have rushed back and crawled under the front of the car out of view of the motor-man. When the car started, he was believed to have been crushed by the catcher of the tram.

Constable Norman Bath and John Perry rushed the injured man to hospital, suffering from internal injuries and bleeding from the mouth. Four doctors worked over the injured man, trying to save him.

Governor's Children, Pyjama-Clad, In Orchestra Before State Ball Begins

Up in the balcony of the ballroom at Government House on Thursday evening, just half an hour before the first guests were received, four excited youngsters watched the orchestra tuning up and getting ready for the state ball.

Brian, the six-year-old son of the Governor-General of Canada, with Shane and Rose, his older brother and sister and their young companion, Henrietta Scott, had been told they might watch the dancing for an hour, "if they were good."

They were all ready for bed, the girls in rose silk pyjamas and delf blue dressing gowns and the boys in dark blue pyjamas and dressing gowns.

It was early and they had the balcony to themselves. They were racing back and forth, and getting a good look at everything from their vantage point high above the polished ballroom floor.

When the orchestra arrived it held their undivided attention. They stood on tiptoe and leaned far out to see what was going on.

Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward caught sight of them and called to Shane to "come down and try the drums."

In a matter of seconds the three older children were down the stairs and racing across the empty ballroom floor.

LOST HER SLIPPER

Rose lost her slipper but it didn't take her a minute to pick it up and put it back on again. It was a race to see who would reach the drums first — and Shane won.

For the next 10 or 15 minutes the ballroom echoed to a strange off-beat rhythm as Shane played the drums and Rose and Henrietta tried the cymbals and the triangle.

Just as the first guests arrived someone called from the balcony and like all good children, Shane, Rose and Henrietta said "thank you very much" and disappeared up the stairs.

But they didn't go to bed. At 10.30 when the debutantes were being presented to the Governor-General and Lady Alexander, high above them in one corner of the balcony, the four children in pyjamas and dressing gowns were the most excited spectators among the 500 guests.

Governor Might Make New Home On Island

Governor-General Alexander told members of the Canadian Club today that although he had not chosen his final home, he felt he had come near it after seeing Vancouver Island.

"Here," he said, "is a delightful blending of the charm of the old world and the excitement and promise of the new."

Governor-General Alexander said that in his 3,000-mile journey from east to west he had obtained a fair view of Canadian life and Canadian scenery, adding, the trip had been "only a preliminary reconnaissance."

"But," he added, "I have now seen something of the home-steads of the eastern provinces, the farms and ranches of the prairie provinces, the superb scenery of the Rockies and here the enchanting beauty of British Columbia."

He told Canadian Club members that he had also had some experience of Canadian weather, arriving in Halifax in a snowstorm three months ago, then finding himself in Victoria in the midst "of this lovely summer."

Once again he urged the preservation of historical landmarks in the development of Canada. He referred to an automobile drive Thursday when the viceregal party saw the old schoolhouse at Craigflower and read the plaque telling how it was built in 1853.

The Governor-General recalled the words of Rudyard Kipling, whom he knew and who wrote "to realize Victoria you must take all that the eye admires most in Bournemouth, Torquay, the Isle of Wight, the Happy Valley at Hongkong, the Doon and Sorrento, add reminiscences of the Thousand Islands and arrange the whole around the Bay of Naples with some Himalayas for the background."

He said he had visited all the places mentioned by Kipling and so praised Vancouver Island with a "full knowledge of the beauties of other parts of the world."

British Bakers Abandoning Plan To Strike Against Bread Ration

LONDON (CP) — British bakers appeared today to be reluctantly abandoning their threatened revolt against the Labor government's bread rationing plan, which received the stamp of approval from the House of Commons early this morning after five hours of bitter debate.

Bread rationing is scheduled to become effective Sunday.

By a vote of 305 to 182—one of the smallest government majorities in the 12-month administration of the Labor government—party members defeated a Conservative motion to scrap the plan.

Winston Churchill, who spearheaded the opposition, described the plan as an unnecessary and "galling" burden. He admonished bakers, however, to "do their best to make whatever scheme is thrust upon them by the government work as well as possible."

Spokesmen for several bakers' groups indicated they would follow this advice, and the National Association of Master Bakers was reported considering the relaxation of its decision to disregard the rationing order.

Food Minister Strachey told the Commons shortly before the vote that revised crop estimates indicated the rationing would end "at a much earlier date than seemed likely a few weeks ago."

13 Die In Crash

GOODLAN, Kas. (AP) — A C-47 military transport plane crashed and burned west of here Thursday night, killing 10 passengers and three crew members it was discovered today.

The crash apparently occurred during a severe electrical storm which swept this area. Bodies and parts of the plane were scattered for about a quarter of a mile around the scene, in a wheat stubblefield.

Extend Pickets At Hamilton As Tension Grows

Dr. Soboloff Detained; Clerk Faces Charge

OTTAWA (CP) — A charge has been placed against William M. Pappin, passport office clerk who was named in the final report of the Royal Commission on Espionage in connection with an attempt to get a passport for a Russian agent in the United States.

W. M. PAPPIN
Nature of the charge was not immediately known, but it was learned Pappin was scheduled to appear before Magistrate Glenn Strike in police court here at 3 p.m., E.D.T., today. He has not been arrested.

ACTION IN TORONTO

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. John Soboloff, mentioned in the final report of the Royal Commission on Espionage, was taken into custody today by Royal Canadian Mounted Police. No charges were laid immediately.

Dr. Soboloff was named in the commission's report as active in procuring a false Canadian passport. After the report was issued Monday he said its accusation was "ridiculous." He said then that he never had any connection with the Labor-Progressive Party and could not understand why his name was mentioned.

"All I did was help with a passport for an unknown friend of Sam Carr," said the doctor then. Carr, former national organizer of the Labor-Progressives, has been sought by police for months.

Narcotic Charges

HALIFAX (CP) — Royal Canadian Mounted Police have arrested three men on charges of possession of narcotics and seized a quantity of drugs. It was disclosed here today.

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — A charge that the Steel Company of Canada is conducting "a campaign of lies aimed at getting military intervention in the strike they cannot win without armed force," came today from the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) after a Stelco statement had accused union pickets of entering its property and damaging parked autos during the night.

The union statement was issued by Eaton Park, its publicity director in Hamilton for the strike which began last Monday to enforce union demands for a $33.60 minimum wage for a 40-hour week.

The company's statement came from E. J. Stretton, its police chief, simultaneously with another announcing that food supplies are ample for men remaining in the beleaguered plant. Mr. Stretton said: "Last night a gang of strikers came over the company's fence along the east side, ripped wiring off some of the parked cars and put sand in their gas tanks."

SAY GUARDS NEARBY

Mr. Park's statement said there was no foundation for the accusation. Gates and fence of the plant were patrolled by armed guards, parking lots were close to police depots and "the only person who could have approached the parked cars to do the injury alleged by Stelco would have been the persons permitted to go on the lot by company officers."

The Hamilton police department had told him no such incident occurred, Mr. Parks continued.

Meanwhile union men of the picket lines said that any man who comes out of the plant and "surrenders" will be welcomed with open arms, but any man who attempts to climb over or crawl under the fences "will be handled differently." They said 24 men had attempted to leave by this way during the night and were "roughed up" and sent back into the plant. Police said there was only a slight disturbance and said they believed the men may have been trying to get out to visit their families.

SUPPLIES BY AIR

Company officials reported that the plane service which has been used to take supplies into the plant since Monday has been expanded, but they declined to say how many aircraft are in use. Watchers at the works Thursday reported seeing a large aircraft land. Previously only light planes had been seen.

Vigilant against any new attempts to move supplies into the plant through the gates, the union Thursday night and early today built up its picket lines at the main gates and around the fence of the huge works.

William Lewis, 59-year-old union member from suburban Burlington, appeared in magistrate's court this morning following his arrest Thursday on a charge of threatening Mrs. Murray McMaster, wife of a worker in the Stelco plant. An additional charge of intimidation was laid and he was remanded to next Wednesday for trial. Cash bail of $500 was continued.

Simon Questions Requests By Japanese For Repatriation

LONDON (CP) — Viscount Simon today challenged a submission that requests by Canadian Japanese for repatriation to Japan have any bearing on a hearing before the judicial committee of the Privy Council concerning the Canadian government's authority to deport Japanese.

The hearing opened Tuesday, with F. A. Brewin of Toronto arguing on behalf of the Saskatchewan government and the Co-operative Committee of Japanese Canadians against a Supreme Court of Canada ruling that the Canadian government has authority to deport undesirable Japanese nationals and "male adult persons of Japanese origin" desiring to go to Japan.

The case of the Attorney-General of Canada was opened Thursday by H. E. O'Donnell, K.C.

Lord Simon, one of the Law Lords hearing the appeal, said that in his view a request for repatriation by Japanese is "merely watering down the severity of expulsion."

"It appears that if a Japanese person has been in detention in Canada he is not required to have signed this mysterious paper," said Lord Simon. "I cannot see how these papers were collected. For all I know, people may have gone around collecting signatures. It is a mystery to me."

(By "mysterious paper" Viscount Simon presumably referred to forms on which requests for repatriation were made.)

"If... there is a power to deport Japanese persons I cannot see that a request for repatriation has anything to do with it. It merely ameliorates the severity of the provision (for deportation)."

Frank Gahan, London barrister, presenting the Attorney-General's case with Mr. O'Donnell, argued the Governor-in-Council could exercise discretion in each case irrespective of the powers afforded him.

Lord Porter, one of the Law Lords, commented: "According to you there is power to turn out anyone and it follows that the wives and children of the person turned out could also be deported."

Lord Simon: "It might be that a girl whose brothers fought and died for Canada may be married to a Japanese. You must go so far as to contend that this legislative power goes to the length of authorizing the minister to expel that Canadian girl."

Mr. Gahan said he accepted that statement. As far as the Governor-in-Council's powers were concerned, where it was desirable to deport the man it might also be desirable to deport the wife and any children.

Russians To Return 120,000 Nazi P.O.W.'s

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet authorities announced today that 120,000 German prisoners of war would be returned from Russia in the next three months, with the first 50,000 arriving at Frankfurt-on-Oder Aug. 15. The brief announcement, prominently displayed in all Soviet-controlled newspapers here, did not disclose how many Germans the Russians still hold.

Escape Death When Wall Collapses

Two Saanich residents, Miss Viola Mahon and Mike Russell, narrowly escaped death Thursday evening when crushed beneath a huge prefabricated wall of a warehouse which they were helping to construct on Lindsay Street near Wilkinson Road.

Miss Mahon, daughter of W. Mahon who operates the Craig Orchard on Mann Street near Glenford Avenue at Royal Oak, was reported to be in good condition after spending a fairly comfortable night at St. Joseph's Hospital. She suffered possible internal injuries, cuts, multiple bruises and severe shock.

Mike Russell, Mann Avenue, whose brother, Pat, was at the scene of the accident at the time, suffered knee injuries but was not confined to hospital.

Corporal Jack Hamilton and Constable Walter Mycock, who were called to the scene, said Miss Mahon and Russell were pinned under the wall, which was 51 feet long and 20 feet high, when it collapsed while they were working on it. It was part of a warehouse being constructed by Russell, who recently was discharged from the army, for a mushroom cultivating business he was starting.

Pat was on the other side of the building when the wall came down, and in trying to release Miss Mahon and his brother, strained his back and received first aid with the other two by Dr. G. L. Gayton, Saanich health officer.

Cow Fight's In Mountain Pastures Staged By Swiss

By HANS DE WATTEVILLE
SION, Switzerland (AP)—For the farmers living far up in the isolated valleys of the Valais Canton in southwestern Switzerland, their annual cow fights are no less thrilling than a heavyweight championship boxing bout.

Toward the end of June herds of the stocky, combative brown and black cattle known here as the "Herence" breed are driven to high pastures just beneath the glaciers and snow-covered tops of the Alps to spend the summer.

On the same day approximately 200 cows, chosen from the different stables, are assembled on the grazing ground to determine a queen which will become the acknowledged summer leader of the combined herds.

It is a great honor as well as financially interesting for a farmer to own a queen cow. The animals are herded together in as level a field as can be found in this rugged country. Their horns have been blunted and sharp tips removed.

The cows, sensing the coming fight, dig the earth with their horns, stamping and pawing with their forelegs and throwing up clouds of dirt. The strongest plunge into the fray, each instinctively choosing a cow of about the same weight. Cattle they shun cows which defeated them in previous years.

BRIEF BUT VIOLENT

The clashes are short but violent. The cows will manoeuvre with lowered heads for a good attacking position; then hurt themselves against each other, locking horns and straining with the whole weight of their muscular bodies until one yields to superior strength. The queen cow always is the strongest and heaviest of the lot. If two cows are evenly matched in power the victory goes to the one with the most fighting spirit.

Despite frequent deep head wounds and the occasional loss of a horn, the cows never are really seriously injured.

For weeks before the drive to pasture candidates for the title receive special care and are fed the best hay and oats and even bread and white wine to increase their fighting spirit. They also are allowed to produce less milk. That is why, during the war, cow fights officially were forbidden by the government.

Final Circus Day Draws Big Crowds

The Clyde Beatty Circus went into its third successful day of appearances here today and indications are that, by the final performance tonight, the circus troupe will have performed before 30,000 Victorians, or nearly 100 per cent capacity.

At the conclusion of the final performance tonight, circus workers will immediately begin taking down the huge big-top and loading animals and rolling stock aboard the circus' own 20-car train.

Thursday, one accident occurred during the performance when acrobat William Temple fell during his act and suffered a broken rib. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment and released late Thursday night.

Inspectors Raid Summer School Seeking Teachers For Districts

The shortage of teachers is worse this year than at any time during the war, if the manner in which school inspectors are raiding the Summer School of Education is any indication, Dr. C. B. Conway, summer school principal, said today.

During the five-day conference of school inspectors, which will conclude at the Empress Hotel Saturday, many of the inspectors have been making a search at Summer School for teachers to fill vacancies in their districts, Dr. Conway said.

The large cities of Vancouver and Victoria now seem to have their full quota of teachers, but smaller towns and rural schools are having a very difficult time persuading teachers to take on the jobs.

The postwar boom in marriages, plus the number of women who are taking up homemaking again now that their husbands have come back from the war, has greatly aggravated the situation.

Herring Contract Last Agreement In Fishing Industry

Negotiations between fishermen and boat owners and between fishermen and fish buyers were nearly concluded for the southern section of British Columbia today, with the announcement that pichard fishermen had signed an agreement Thursday with their employers.

George Miller, president of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (A.F.L.), said pichard fishing would get under way from Vancouver in a few days.

Mr. Miller said several differences in the pichard agreement had been settled and that fishing would not be held up by the current failure to conclude a herring agreement. A new operators' offer is expected in the herring dispute shortly.

The herring agreement is believed to be the last negotiated for the current fishing season.

Previously the U.F.A.W. had held that pichard boats would not sail until an agreement had been reached on herring prices to be paid by reduction plants.

The most lucrative herring fishing area of the province is in the Gulf of Georgia and a majority of the vessels are harbored in Vancouver.

Poundman Charged In Saanich Court

Theodore T. Hill, Saanich poundkeeper, pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon to a dangerous driving charge which resulted from a head-on collision on Gorge Road June 22, and was remanded until next week for sentence.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall remanded the case after Hill asked that he be allowed to keep his driver's license, as he needed it in his work.

Sgt. Cecil Pearce of the municipal police said the poundkeeper's wagon went out of control on a curve near Millgrove Street, and swerved to the wrong side of the street crashing head on into another car. Injuries to passengers in the other car were slight, he said.

John A. Proffit was fined $30 when convicted of a similar charge which resulted from an accident on Douglas Street and McKenzie Avenue on June 23.

A dangerous driving charge against H. J. Reed which arose from an accident in the 3300 block of Cook Street, on July 9 in which the accused's truck struck a small child, was dismissed. Evidence showed the child ran in front of the truck without any warning.

Final Decision On Canada's Flag Not Likely During This Session

OTTAWA (CP)—Final action on settling the question of a design for a Canadian flag likely will be delayed until next session because of the opposition of Quebec members to the design recommended by the parliamentary flag committee, it was learned here.

The committee recommended that the Red Ensign with a golden maple leaf on a white background replacing the coat of arms in the fly be adopted as Canada's flag. There has been no debate on the committee's report, presented last week, and can be none until a member of the committee moves for concurrence.

It was learned Quebec members who planned an extensive fight against adoption of the report have found that under House rules the report actually is not in order.

They found the committee had not carried out its terms of reference to choose a design for a Canadian flag, because the report did not specify what size the Union Jack in the canton should be or what size the maple leaf in the fly should be.

One member said that under the House rules this was sufficient to disqualify the committee's report.

A prominent member of the flag committee said he, too, had seen indications the report would not be moved for concurrence this session. He had heard mention of a possibility the details of the new design would be worked out after the end of the session and the new flag proclaimed by order-in-council.

C.C.F. Non-Confidence Motion On Isley Budget Beaten 135-37

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons voted 135 to 37 Friday night against a C.C.F. motion of want-of-confidence in the government after hearing Finance Minister Isley make a spirited defence of his budget and then saw a second budget debate develop on a similar Progressive Conservative motion.

Mr. Isley answered opposition demands for cuts in expenditures, explained the government's position on taxation of co-operatives, told why tax reductions had been deferred until next Jan. 1 and denied charges the administration was waging a "big stick" in its new financial proposals to the provinces.

After he had concluded and the vote was taken, John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, rose to outline the debate with a speech in which he charged the Dominion had sought to "frighten and bludgeon" the provinces into surrendering their rights in past Dominion-Provincial discussions.

TO CONTINUE NEXT WEEK

Mr. Bracken still was speaking at the adjournment hour and the debate was put over until next Tuesday.

The defeated C.C.F. motion expressed regret that tax reductions had been insufficient, that the budget had failed to provide public investment to assure full employment, that social security measures were not contained in the provincial offer and that co-operatives were not recognized as non-profit bodies.

Mr. Isley charged the Progressive Conservatives had called for reduction in expenditures without pinning their criticism to any specific items and described their showing in the debate as "pathetic, halting, ineffective and feeble."

Speaking of co-operatives, he said the government was following recommendations of the Royal Commission on co-operatives which had brought down a unanimous report that had been received favorably by the co-operatives themselves. He also repeated his budget offer to settle out of court tax assessment cases now pending against prairie wheat pools.

Turning to the deferred tax reductions, Mr. Isley recalled there was a flat 16 per cent reduction in personal income taxes in the October budget; and said this had been intended to cover all of 1946 and said greater tax relief could not be provided without increasing the deficit on this year's operations.

He turned down opposition charges that the government had sought to use "coercion" against the provinces with this statement: "I repudiate entirely the charges of coercion or a big stick. It is entirely unjustified."

Canada To Increase Lumber Price To U.S.

NEW YORK (CP)—Canadian manufacturers shortly will impose a 10 per cent price increase on lumber products sold to the United States, a spokesman for the lumber industry said here. The increase would compensate for price differentials caused by revaluation of the Canadian dollar to parity with the U.S. dollar.

Canadian lumber exports to the United States are estimated at 1,500,000,000 board feet annually with a yearly dollar value of more than $75,000,000.

Britain Not Planning To Revalue Pound

LONDON (Reuter)—Responsible sources here say there is no foundation for rumors the pound sterling is about to be revalued against the United States dollar.

The rumors, reported from Washington, New York, Africa and Europe were that the pound sterling would be raised to $4.43 or even the old parity of $4.86 instead of the present $4.03, United States funds.

But it was learned authoritatively Britain has no intention of following the action of Canada and Sweden in raising their currencies against the dollar. Some British officials believe that, while Canada probably had no choice, Sweden acted too precipitately.

British authorities regard the present sterling-dollar rate as the foundation of international stability. They think any change or any action which brought exchange rates to the front pages of newspapers might cause social disruption in some parts of the world and grave economic instability.

If the United States had a runaway inflation or if American and other money rushed from dollars into sterling, Britain's hand might be forced. But neither of those ifs is at present in the picture.

Cigar Price Boost Won't Cut Puffing

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian cigar smokers who puff their way through 200,000,000 cigars a year now are paying more for the privilege of luxury, but manufacturers look for no decrease in consumption.

Price increases, averaging in the neighborhood of two cents, have been in effect during the past week or so as new stocks moved from manufacturers to dealers. The increases followed changes in taxation methods announced in Finance Minister Isley's budget address June 27.

Spokesman for the cigar-making industry said today the former six-cent cigar, now two for 15 cents, is by far the most popular cigar. Seventy per cent of Canada's cigar smokers are in the "two-for" class.

Under the price changes the 16-cent cigar now sells for 18 cents or two for 35 cents; the 21-center now is 23 cents, and the three-for-fifty variety now is 20 cents straight.

Cigar smoking has increased since the war started, except in 1944, last year for which government figures are available. In 1939 it was almost 128,000,000 annually. In 1943 it had jumped to well over 204,000,000, but fell off to 196,000,000 in 1944.

Wage Negotiations For Railway Workers

OTTAWA (CP)—Possibility of large-scale wage negotiations for all Canadian railway workers is seen in the announcement of the National War Labor Board that pending wage cases were being returned with the suggestion of negotiations.

Canadian railways employ a total of some 170,000 workers. Wage applications and requests for revivification of working conditions affecting some of the larger groups, shop workers, trainmen, freight handlers and clerks, recently have been filed with the labor board.

Clifford Murchison, board chairman, announced Thursday night the board was sending the applications back to the unions and railways, asking that negotiations be resumed on the points in issue.

Electron Beam New Tool To Attack Cancer

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—A 22,000,000-volt free electron beam which can be used to "penetrate the core of an atom and study the nucleus in a way never before possible" has been produced at the University of Illinois, the school announced Thursday.

The beam, described by the scientists as a "new tool for which atomic and medical scientists have long waited," comes from the university's 22,000,000-volt betatron, which had been used previously only to produce high voltage x-rays.

It opens entirely new ways, the scientists added to: (1) study the inside of the atom; (2) study the behavior of electrons; (3) create artificially radioactive substances, and (4) attack deep-seated cancer.

'BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN'

RUSSIA'S CENSORS OBVIOUSLY permit only such "news" to be transmitted to the outside world as may conform to the day-to-day policy of the men in control at the Kremlin. Speculation from within may be arranged for a specific purpose; what is surmised by observers not subject to control is another matter altogether. Because only a comparative few correspondents from the democracies have been permitted a more or less fleeting glimpse of conditions "back stage"—knowing, incidentally, their reports would come under tooth-and-nail scrutiny before release—the public of other lands is apt to accept all such information with a good deal of reserve.

At the same time, and bearing all the circumstances in mind, persistent reports that Mr. Stalin is having difficulty in adjusting his political policies to the aspirations and demands of his principal military leaders are being subject to more than perfunctory consideration. One or two experienced American radio commentators yesterday, for example, confidently announced that the distinguished Marshal Georgi Zhukov—once suggested as a likely successor to the Generalissimo—has left his high position in Moscow to take over the command of the Odessa military district. Such a move, as a British United Press dispatch from New York avers, would be comparable to relegating General Dwight Eisenhower to an army post at New Orleans. Whether this translation—assuming it has taken place—is part of a wider shuffle in the select military circle which includes marshals whose names had become household words a little more than a year ago is, highly problematical. In any case, a dictator, if he is to remain such, can permit no competition.

Keeping company with yesterday's report of internal conflict in Moscow, moreover, is a lengthy article in the current issue of Life magazine, written perhaps three weeks ago, from the pen of Mr. M. W. Fodor, for the last quarter of a century the eminent correspondent in the Balkans for the Manchester Guardian and the Chicago Daily News. He says categorically that "the Soviet Union is faced today with a multitude of internal problems from which the world's attention has been diverted by the pyrotechnics of Soviet foreign policy." While the author explains that some of Russia's difficulties naturally derive from her losses of life and property during the war, "the greatest source of potential trouble is the Red Army." Here is his brief elaboration:

"At the top of the military hierarchy a group of rebellious marshals has stirred up dissension by its ideas of nationalist expansion. And at the bottom, hordes of returned veterans are causing no less serious apprehension to the leaders of the Soviet state. Although military people all over the world have slightly abnormal minds, the marshals of Russia have the most distorted ones of all."

Mr. Fodor recalls that Red Army newspapers in Vienna, Budapest and other cities were seriously hinting last year that there would be two lists at the Soviet elections, one Red Army, one Communist—a revolutionary departure, had it occurred, that would have meant a two-party system in totalitarian Russia. "As it happened," the author explains, "Stalin forestalled this eventually by absorbing his rebellious marshals into the Supreme Soviet." Thus in the light of Marshal Zhukov's reported demotion, and on the basis of Mr. Fodor's contention, the diplomatic aggressiveness which has marked the behaviour of the Soviet Union's representative on the Council of Foreign Ministers and the Security Council would seem to fall into somewhat clearer political perspective.

VALUABLE ASSISTANCE

THE EXPANDING INTEREST SHOWN by Canadians in social work has amply justified the decision of the Dominion Department of Health to extend financial assistance to those young men and women who are making that service their vocation. In consequence, the announcement of Hon. Brooke Claxton that scholarships will be awarded to promising candidates in Canadian schools of social work will be generally applauded. And it is particularly pleasing to note that among the preparatory institutions included in the benefits of a special $100,000 vote for that purpose is the University of British Columbia.

People of this province have prided themselves on the advances made under government auspices to improve the welfare of citizens here. They have been in the fortunate position of being able to draw most favorable comparisons with other parts of this country. As the results of the newly announced additional aid make themselves apparent, British Columbia will, it is hoped, be in a position to extend still further the provisions it offers as a public service. The direct benefits of the scheme will go to specific individuals who are studying social work. But the ultimate advantages will be relayed to all who are assisted by those to whom the special training is given.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED?

WHAT HAS SUDDENLY COME OVER Argentina's President Juan Domingo Peron? The question is inspired by a dispatch from Buenos Aires yesterday quoting the newspaper La Prensa as declaring that this former admirer of the European dictators had said in a recent speech that in the event of another great war his country "must enter it quickly on the side of the American republics."

With its 300,000 circulation, plus its world-renowned influence as an independent newspaper which has often defied government censorship, it is scarcely likely that La Prensa would be flying a political kite by too loose an interpretation of what President Peron actually said. But the tone is in such striking contrast to numerous previous utterances of the former power behind the Farrell regime that most observers will be more than a little puzzled.

And in view of the fact that the mutual suspicion between Buenos Aires and Moscow which had persisted for many years has recently given place to an exchange of pleasant platitudes, or diplomatic "high considerations," what will Pravda and Izvestia have to say about President Peron's newly developed solicitude for hemispheric solidarity against a hypothetical aggressor? Perhaps this is another case of the mellowing influence of office.

A POINT TO BE NOTED

AN INTERESTING EXAMPLE OF WHAT is possibly unconscious super-racism is brought to notice in the June edition of the Canadian Author and Bookman. Quoting results of a study made by Columbia University's Bureau of Applied Social Research, the article states that "short story writers are the greatest offenders in making constant use of racial stereotypes, and perpetuating the false and mischievous notion that ours is a white, Protestant Anglo-Saxon country in which all other racial stocks and religious faiths are of lesser dignity."

The injustice occurs, according to the survey, in the fact that menials, racketeers, thieves, gamblers, shady night-club proprietors, crooked fight managers and non-sympathetic characters are seldom Anglo-Saxon. While it is to be assumed that the Columbia study was made chiefly in the field of short stories appearing in United States magazines, the influence must undoubtedly be felt in Canada, which turns to sources south of the border for the greatest volume of its popular reading.

It will be said, of course, that this is fiction, that characters are imaginary and that they should leave little impress upon the mind of the reader who is merely seeking entertainment. Such an argument is hardly a reply to the point raised by the Columbia dictum. The propaganda element of such repeated characterizations is bound to have its effect, consciously or otherwise, on a wide reading public. It adds little to the cause of understanding among peoples of different races and helps to establish a superiority complex which can be made fertile ground for the germination of racial antipathies.

IN A YOUNG MAN'S WORLD

IN A DAY WHEN THE EMPHASIS IS so frequently on youth, the bestowal of the Lions International sportsmanship award on Cornelius McGillicuddy, baseball's 83-year-old "Connie Mack," is an event worthy of note. The distinction was conferred upon the octogenarian, according to report, "in recognition of all of Mack's past achievements." But if the donors were looking backward in reaching their decision to honor the owner of Philadelphia's Athletics, tail-end team in the American League, they were not quite in harmony with the spirit of the man to whom they gave the laurel. Well past the Psalmist's three score years and ten; Mr. McGillicuddy has served notice that he by no means considers himself too old to be useful. Within recent weeks he has given speedy denial to suggestions that he is due for retirement.

Yesterday's presentation recalls another occasion when the maker of champions was similarly honored. In 1930 he received the Bok Award "for having rendered the greatest service to the city of Philadelphia in the preceding year," a recognition which had previously been bestowed by the trustees on scholars and men of learning in the professions and science. In the field of sport, of course, his abilities had been adequately demonstrated by a record of five world's baseball championships, "nine" American League pennants, and an active playing career which drew comment before the turn of the century.

FIXING RESPONSIBILITY

STIRRED TO ACTION BY REPORTS ON the rapid increase in juvenile delinquency, several states in the neighboring republic are passing legislation which places direct responsibility on the parents for the misdemeanors of their children. The parents are now being brought into court and fined considerable sums as well as having to make good in terms of cash the damage wrought by their sons and daughters. This process has been found effective where it has been tried. Statistically there is an immediate decrease in cases.

It would seem that this is a common-sense approach to the basic question of responsibility. The laws can be strictly enforced. If, under modern conditions, cash is regarded as the best security, salutary deprivation of cash, especially among those who hold such beliefs, is a quick method of enforcing parental appreciation of responsibility for the behavior of juveniles.

There are at least two major secret weapons in existence which scientists believe are potentially as dangerous to mankind as the (atom) bomb itself.—W. A. Higginbotham, chairman Federation of Atomic Scientists.

Must Canada Create Criminals

By S. ALFRED JONES, K.C., LL.B.
(Reprinted from Toronto Daily Star)

SOMEONE HAS SAID: "Everything in the modern home is controlled by a switch... except the children." This quip places the finger on the vital cause of the alarming growth of juvenile delinquency as it sweeps Canada today with an onrushing, menacing surge. Neglect of parental supervision is doubtless the main cause of the awful wave of juvenile crime. Another is the bad advice given by pseudo-psychologists to parents to avoid chastising their children.

As our law now stands regarding juveniles, a school teacher may apply corrective force in a reasonable way to a disobedient boy, but the experienced judge of a juvenile court has no authority to order even a mild paddling to an incorrigible lad, although the delinquent may have to his credit a dozen previous convictions.

THOSE IN A POSITION to hear the chatter of lads after they leave a session of the juvenile court well know that the court has no terror for the delinquent lad of today. He knows perfectly well that the judge has no power to have him caned or even spanked. The more often he is convicted, the greater his prestige with his pals. He glories in recounting to other boys his experience in court. He knows that the provision in the law for fining him cannot be enforced. He says to the gang: "He won't send me to the industrial school because he's scared he'll make a worse boy of me." The lad becomes a hero in his comrades' estimation. All these things the judges know, but they are very properly averse to sending the lad to a house of correction or industrial school, because, bad as he is, he will probably emerge much the worse because of his contacts there, and may even become, by reason of his very confinement, a hardened criminal.

THERE IS NO GREAT problem of juvenile delinquency in England. Why? In the Mother Country the law provides for corporal punishment in the juvenile courts. A maximum of six strokes of the birch rod is authorized for a child from 7 to 13 years of age, and a maximum of 12 strokes for a "young person" 14 to 16. No child under seven may be punished. Unlike Canadian law, it provides that no child under 14 may be confined in any industrial school or in any place of detention whatever. There is more severe caning provided for lads guilty of certain serious crimes. What conditions result from this plan?

Statistics tell us that Britain's prison population in 1922 was 186,000; in 1942 it was reduced to 46,000. Canada's indictable crimes in 1900 were under 5,800. By 1944 they rose to the enormous figure of 42,000. In juvenile realm the records show even a more alarming picture for this country. Fifty per cent of all male admissions in 1944 to our Canadian penitentiaries were young men of 23 or under.

THE BORSTAL system of schools in England, for the reclamation of lads who are considered to have a chance, has proved its value. To be a success here, however, as they have been in England, the whole English system must be adopted. The juvenile court there, dealing with children from 7 to 15, is the handmaiden of the Borstal system, which deals with lads from 16 to 23. The two reforms must go hand in hand.

In two recent cases in Toronto, the Appellate Court judges, on hearing appeals by lads sentenced to prison terms in the reformatory, urged that "good spankings" for juvenile offenders should have a place in Canadian law.

Solomon has given us no less than five different warnings of the terrible consequences which follow the failure to chastise children and Paul in his letter to the Hebrews, 12, writes: "What son is he whom the father chasteneth not?" Are we wiser than Solomon?

I HAVE REFERRED to the pernicious teachings of a pseudo-psychology. Dr. Henry C. Link, the great American scientist, one of the leaders in the profession of psychology, says in his famous book now in its 37th reprinting: "Physical punishment, orthodox child psychologists now agree, is not only permissible but at times the most effective way of dealing with a child, and much less injurious than prolonged reasoning and discussion." Again modern science and religion agree.

No one will deny that the best place for a child to receive discipline is in the home. The earlier the training, the better. But when parents refuse to perform their duties has the state no responsibility? Should the boy so neglected at home be pushed along the downward path by refusing him the benefit of that discipline he should have received from his parents? Must a boy be sent to prison because of the parents' delinquency?

IF OUR LAW provides for corporal punishment for juveniles, the mere fact that such a deterrent existed would prove a strong incentive to parents to do their duty. Our law should be amended. Judges and magistrates in our juvenile courts should be empowered to order moderate corporal punishment under the recognized proper safeguards. Why should a boy be deprived of his God-given right to have such punishment—a right to share in the benefit which accrues to a child who is chastised? Why should he not receive the blessing—I say it seriously and earnestly—the blessing of corporal punishment rather than condemnation to a detention school, and the life of crime which would most probably result?

Is not a few seconds of physical pain better than the terrible alternative which our law now imposes on these children?

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

Gen. Ho Ying-chin, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's military right bower who is on a mission in the United States, expresses the view that the peace of China is interlocked—and Confucius never spoke greater wisdom than that.

China with its 500,000,000 continues to be one of the worst danger-spots on our troubled globe despite the untiring efforts of Gen. Marshall, special United States envoy, to bring an end to the bloody bitterness between the Nationalist government and the Chinese Communists. Time and again the general has had success almost without his grasp, only to see the fighting flame up again as it has now at various points north of the strategic Yangtze River.

Royal Communist and government armies are on the march along this mighty waterway, and Gen. Chou En-lai, Communist spokesman, says that local conflicts are growing rapidly into civil war.

Even if civil war could be confined to China, with its starving millions, it would be an awful tragedy.

If a full-blown civil war in China comes it is likely to drag along for years, until one side is knocked out. Obviously the repercussions in the outside world would be vast.

This column isn't pessimistic regarding the danger of another world-war in the near future. I believe there is a reasonable chance that the great powers can overcome their present difficulties and so avert another global catastrophe.

However, in the case of China's internal difficulties there is no present ground for great optimism. There have been truces and there may be more, but the odds are that in the long run the Nationalist government and the Chinese Communists will settle their argument on the battlefields. The reason is that their political views are so utterly at variance they cannot merge.

So while the United States and other allies continue efforts at reconciliation of the warring Chinese factions, it is obvious that an even greater effort must be made outside China to reconcile the differences among the auspicious Big Four.

In short, the greatest threat growing out of the Chinese situation lies in the doubts between Moscow and the western capitals. The interests of world peace demand that those suspicions be removed immediately, before the civil war has a chance to get into full swing. They can be dissipated by clear-cut declarations by all the major powers, defining their attitudes towards the Chinese imbroglio.

Miss Mary Twigg Woodward makes her curtsy to Viscount Alexander and Lady Alexander while Mignon Barclay-Ross and other debutantes wait their turn. (See additional pictures, Page 11.)

The stately old-world dignity of Government House lent itself to a modern setting, Thursday evening, when Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward entertained with a ball in honor of their Excellencies, Viscount Alexander and Lady Alexander and to introduce their younger daughter, Miss Mary Twigg Woodward to capital city society.

Presented with Miss Woodward were a group of debutantes from Victoria and Vancouver.

Lieutenant-Governor Woodward and Mrs. Woodward received their 500 guests in the state drawing-room, decorated with great masses of brilliant summer flowers.

VICEREGAL PARTY
Promptly at 10.20, Viscount

Alexander and Lady Alexander appeared in the ballroom and were escorted to chairs of state placed on a red carpet at one side of the floor.

The debutantes, led by Miss Woodward, entered from the drawing-room and as their names were called, made their curtsy to Viscount and Lady Alexander and passed quickly on to form a semi-circle at the end of the ballroom.

Lady Alexander was gowned in white with golden sequins started on the bodice of the dress and the very short sleeves. Diamonds twinkled in the tiara in her dark hair and in the bracelet on her wrist. Her corsage was of red carnations. Miss Bridget Vesey, her lady-in-waiting, wore a dance frock in a floral design of scarlet on a white background.

Mrs. Woodward chose brilliant silver lame embellished with an all-over tulip design in softest rose, styled with low décolletage and skirt gathered into a slight bustle falling into a train.

Mrs. Glen McDonald, Mrs. Woodward's older daughter, wore shell pink net, flared from the waist into a three-tiered effect with off-shoulder neckline and a cluster of large pink net roses at the waist. Miss Ruth Maclean, who attended Mrs. Woodward, was gowned in white.

After the presentations, the music for the first dance floated out from the orchestra dais. Viscount Alexander led with Mrs. Woodward as his partner and the Lieutenant-Governor danced with Lady Alexander.

Over $500 Realized
At Cathedral Party

Bishop H. E. Sexton opened the garden party held Wednesday afternoon in the Bishop's Close under the auspices of Christ Church Cathedral Women's Parish Guild. Mrs. P. F. Poulton was general convener of the affair, which realized over $500.

Tea was served in the Memorial Hall, where music was supplied by St. Mark's Trio, in which Mrs. F. W. L. Moore, Mrs. S. L. Elleus and Mrs. E. Tuson took part. Mrs. A. J. Parmiter arranged tea and Mrs. Gladys Richardson was in charge of tickets.

LOVELY GOWNS

There were many beautiful gowns. Miss Vervan Yarrow, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Yarrow, wore a white net dress with off-shoulder neckline and full skirt and carried a colonial bouquet. Miss Joan Hutchinson, also a debutante, was in white crepe with fitted bodice, very full skirt and gold sequin capelets.

Miss Helen Bell-irving wore cream corded silk fashioned in crinoline style. "A single strand of pearls and a colonial bouquet completed the effect." Miss Dora Mainwaring was in ice blue net taffeta, fashioned with very full skirt and sweetheart neckline, cape

Fritzi Scheff's Theme Song Still Is 'Kiss Me Again'

NEW YORK (AP) — For slightly more than 40 years, Fritzi Scheff has been singing "Kiss Me Again." And for slightly more than 40 years, the original "Kiss Me Again" girl would have preferred to be singing almost anything else.

But the petite coloratura can't seem to escape her musical destiny any more today than she could back on Christmas night, 1905, when she first sang the Victor Herbert number in "Mile Modiste." She sang it as a Christmas present to the composer, and there were 26 encores of a song she didn't like in the first place.

"Immediately people started stuffing it down my throat," the Austrian-born singer says regrettably. "Whenever I walked into a restaurant, or into a party, the band played it, and I had to sing it. I still can't get it through my noodle that one song should be your whole life."

Actually the song has been her whole life. No matter where she has appeared since 1905, audiences have clamored for the song. When she left musical comedy for a while to go on the legitimate stage, they demanded a few stanzas at the final curtain. No vaudeville appearance was complete without it. Even today, at the Diamond Horseshoe where Miss Scheff comes on for just one number, it's "Kiss Me Again" of course. A little arithmetic reveals that she's sung it exactly 1542 times there alone.

MADE HUSBANDS PROPOSE

"Women have told me they named their babies after me because of that song," she says with a twinkle in her reddish-brown eyes. "And many have said their husbands proposed after hearing it. Once I was asked to go to the bedside of a dying man and sing it."

Whether she likes the song or not, after 40 years Fritzi Scheff has begun to appreciate it. Each night as she comes on-stage at the Diamond Horseshoe in a black sequined gown, long opera gloves and headpiece of algerettes, she says she "finds something new in it."

The pretty coloratura had been the petite sensation of the Metropolitan Opera at the turn of the century, when opera stars were mostly all on the large size. Persuaded to leave the opera for lighter roles, Fritzi Scheff first appeared in 1905 in the now-famous Modiste part—a stage-struck French milliner who meets a millionaire who backs her dramatic enterprises, and promptly falls in love with her in the best musical comedy tradition.

Legends grew up about Fritzi Scheff. To this day, people recall how madam's feet never were allowed to touch the ground, how a long red carpet was unrolled before her as she stepped from her carriage. They remember stories of how she always rented a whole floor in a hotel, took her doctor, chef and several maids on tour, and invariably travelled in a private train christened the Fritzi Scheff Special.

How much of all that was Fritzi Scheff and how much was embroidery on an already colorful career is difficult to say now. But today, Miss Scheff admits she's not the "little devil" she once was, and she gets along without red carpets or any of the things that went along with them. She lives quietly in an apartment on 79th Street in New York, has two pet Pekinese, and finds here time pretty well taken up with two shows an evening at the Billy Rose night club.

Women's Canadian Club Honors Distinguished Guest

Lady Alexander chats informally with Mrs. John Hart, left, and Mrs. K. C. Drury, president of the club, at a tea given in her honor Thursday afternoon in the Elizabethan Room at the Empress Hotel.

In a few informal words, spoken in a soft, clear voice, Viscountess Alexander, the charming, dark-eyed wife of the Governor-General of Canada, endeared herself to a representative gathering of women of Victoria Thursday afternoon.

Speaking at a reception given in her honor by the Women's Canadian Club, in the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel, Lady Alexander expressed her appreciation of the beauties of Victoria and Vancouver Island. "When we arrived here Wednesday," she said, "the peak of our interesting glorious 24-day trip was reached."

Her Excellency was accompanied into the lounge by Mrs. K. C. Drury, president of the club; her lady-in-waiting, Miss Bridget Vesey, and Mrs. Allan Campbell, immediate past president.

Introduced by Mrs. Drury, Lady Alexander received and spoke personally to each member as their names were presented by Mrs. H. L. Smith.

Behind the reception line great masses of hydrangeas, ramblers roses and other summer flowers had been arranged by Mrs. Donald McAdie and Mrs. R. Wootton. Lady Alexander, who is tall and slender, wore a summer suit of soft rose beige with a tiny all-over pattern in black, a black off-the-face hat with a brilliant clip and black accessories.

Miss Vesey's dressmaker suit was of red and white stripes. With this she wore white accessories and a white straw off-the-face hat trimmed with tiny ostrich tips. Mrs. Drury was in a lime green afternoon dress with navy accessories and model hat of fine navy straw. Mrs. Campbell chose a beige suit, styled in the new soft effect. With this she wore a tiny picture hat of fine black straw.

Following the reception tea was served in the Elizabethan Room when honorary members, past presidents and the executive of the club were presented to Lady Alexander.

The table, covered with a cut-work lace cloth was decorated with a low arrangement of bright summer flowers. Presiding at the urns were Mesdames W. G. Wilson, J. F. C. Hyndman, A. Carmichael, S. J. Willis, P. B. Scuprah and Miss Kathleen Agnew.

Mrs. Drury received and presented the following guests: Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. R. P. Butchart, Madame Lugin Fahey, Miss M. Bruce, Mesdames F. A. McDiarmid, G. H. Barnard, H. P. Hodges, H. L. Campbell, F. G. Aldous, Allan Campbell, H. L. Smith, W. H. Wilson, W. H. Yardley, J. L. Clay, W. S. Moore, G. Fletcher, A. D. Muskett, E. G. Rowbotham, E. M. Stralight, R. Wickson, R. Wootton, V. L. Annett, J. M. Ewing, A. H. Cox and G. Cameron.

Saanich May Ask Share of Gas Tax

Saanich will employ the increasing municipal costs and diminishing provincial grants in a brief to Goldenberg commission on provincial-municipal relations, it was stated at a meeting of the municipal council Tuesday night. Although not definitely stated, it was intimated the municipality would follow the lead of other municipalities in asking that the province apportion each a share of such revenue as gasoline tax, pari-mutuel and liquor profits. The municipality probably will claim that damage to its large road mileage by cars and buses merits a large share of the gas tax.

Reconstructed, Refurnished New Terry's Opens Tomorrow

For the past few weeks passers-by have speculated as to the nature of the work that has gone on behind closed doors at the corner of Fort and Douglas Street. Tomorrow their curiosity will be satisfied with the opening of The New Terry's where, in a familiar location this long established restaurant, will re-open in a new guise.

Complete reconstruction, to the specifications laid down by the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Taylor, has been carried out. The contractors have stripped the interior, installing new fixtures, electrical and water supply, new flooring and wall paneling.

The opening of the New Terry's is marked by the innovation of modern restaurant service, featuring both booth and table meals, expertly served in pleasant, well-lighted surroundings. Overhead the glass panels in the ceiling give a daylight effect during the day, carried out at night by the latest in lighting fixtures. This sets off to splendid effect the dark wooden panelling and the light tables in the booths, contrasting with the white table cloths of the main dining room. Underfoot is the springy linoleum tile that lends so much to the harmony and general appearance of The New Terry's.

NEW KITCHEN

Cleanliness is the keynote of The New Terry's. The kitchen has formed no small part of the general reconstruction and is completely new. Here a well known chef, aided by a competent staff, works under ideal conditions. New equipment throughout includes the thermostatically controlled cook ranges and the thermostatic Moffatt Electric bake ovens which allows baking to be done on the premises. Gleaming tiles and bright chromium give this more the air of a laboratory than of the conventional kitchen.

For many years Terry's has been a meeting place for Victorians for meals and snacks at all hours. Now, with the largest seating capacity of any restaurant on Vancouver Island, the service offered is complete. For those who wish the semi-formal privacy of a booth there is accommodation for parties of two, four and as high as eight. In addition there are tables, fully set, ready to cater for those who wish more conventional entertainment, family parties, club or lodge luncheons or convention dinners. It is planned to have special accommodation for larger parties and entertainment.

The new premises and modern restaurant service are but a further step in the program of steady development inaugurated by Mr. Taylor when he took over the long established business of Terry's Drug Store. Terry's has been a household word in Victoria since the inception of the business by the late Wallace Terry at a location on Government Street in 1900. Later it moved to Fort Street and the present premises were acquired in 1917.

Mr. Taylor, a veteran of the First World War, aided by Mrs. Taylor, took over the business in 1943 and inaugurated a policy of steady improvement and development. Primarily he directed his energies to the drug store, bringing up the standard of service and quality in every department, including a first rate prescription counter, drugs, cosmetics, confectionery, magazines, souvenirs and novelties. A special feature that is well known is that of the fountain lunch counter in the main store, where the delicious ice-cream, made by Terry's, is a special feature.

Joint Recital

A joint piano and song recital was given Thursday morning at the Summer School of Education by John Beckwith and Peggy Walton.

Miss Walton, soprano, is at present a pupil of Mme. Szekely-Froschi in Philadelphia, and John Beckwith, who won the 1945 Hazel Ireland Eaton scholarship is studying with Alberto Guerrero of Toronto.

Highlight of Miss Walton's portion of the program was her rendition of "Elsa's Dream" from "Lohengrin." Included in her first group of songs were Tchaikovsky's "Nur Wer Die Schnüch Kenn," "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind," by Quilter, and "Caddie," by Strauss.

Mr. Beckwith not only played Miss Walton's accompaniments but gave two piano solo groups, the first of which included the six Bagatelles, Opus 126 by Beethoven, and the second, the four Debussy preludes for which he gave explanatory remarks.

Island Producers Of Turkeys Form First Association

The provincial agriculture department by next breeding season will adopt a turkey approval policy similar to the policy that has been in use for a number of years on the approval of poultry flocks. W. H. Pope, Vancouver Island poultry inspector, told an inaugural meeting of the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association here Tuesday night.

Mr. Pope said that Vancouver Island in the past had imported as many as 18 carloads of turkeys during the Christmas season.

"I feel quite sure that we can not only produce enough to supply ourselves but we can help supply the mainland market as well," he said.

The provincial agriculture department, he said, was revising and bringing up-to-date bulletins and literature on turkey production problems.

C. E. Whitney Griffiths, Metochin, was elected president of the organization at the meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium. Cmdr. C. T. Beard, Esquimalt, M.L.A., was named vice-president, and A. P. McLaughlin, Duncan, secretary-treasurer. The Vancouver Island

Turkey Improvement Association is the first organization of its kind in British Columbia.

For the purpose of administration the island was divided into five zones, Victoria, Duncan, Nanaimo, Courtenay and Alberni. Sixty persons attended the meeting.

Mr. Pope reported a similar group would soon form an organization in the Fraser Valley.

Building permits have been issued to J. A. Worthington for alterations to 1322 Government Street, costing $2,000; to S. Fullerton to build a 4-room house at 461 Kipling Street, cost $5,000; and to W. Snyder to build a 4-room house at 3140 Shelbourne Street, $4,000.

B.C. Salmon Pack Down 50 Per Cent

Reflection of the moderate salmon catches to date this season as compared with last season is revealed in the federal fisheries department bulletin which totals the salmon pack to date at 46,854 cases compared with 94,743 cases at this date last season.

Other fish including herring and halibut had smaller catches this season.

The tuna season opened July 1. First boats to go out went about 150 miles off shore and came back in again. They reported there was not any fish.

Most of the tuna boats left again around July 10. There, success in locating fish has not yet been reported.

Many local fishermen depend on the tuna catch to give them an added bonus for their season's work.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT OIL

MEETING ZERO'S CHALLENGE!

Not so many years ago, wintertime was a nightmare for motorists. Even wax-free motor oils became solid—froze pistons in a grip no starting motor could budge. The marketing men of Imperial Oil Limited took the problem to Imperial's research people at the Sarnia refinery.

RESEARCH GOES TO WORK

The research men at Sarnia had been studying the problem. They knew that what caused the trouble were certain undesirable "hydrocarbons" left in the oil by the refinery processes then used. They knew how to get them out—but the cost would be so high, few would be able to afford the oil. So they went to work along new lines.

DIGGING FOR THE SECRET

The researchers dug into every textbook ever written on oil chemistry. Because research usually begins in the library before the laboratory, Imperial Oil has built up one of the largest collections of books on petroleum science in North America. From their reading, the research men decided that the best hope of removing the unwanted hydrocarbons lay in developing a practical solvent process.

*A solvent is a chemical having the property of dissolving and forming a solution with another substance.

PHENOL WAS THE ANSWER

The work in the laboratory was now intensified. Finally, the research people found the secret in a solvent called Phenol. They discovered that Phenol would dissolve out the undesirable elements in the oil, so that the purified lubricating oil could then be drawn off separately. And most important of all—the Phenol could later be removed from the leftover mixture of oil-thickening hydrocarbons and used over and over again.

MAKING A GREAT DECISION

To translate the "pilot plant" into the giant tanks and towers of steel and concrete required for volume refining was estimated to cost about three-quarters of a million dollars. If the vital 2/10 of 1% loss were exceeded after the costly work was done, all that money and work would be expended in vain. But if the gamble paid off, a revolutionary new refining process would result... millions of car and truck owners would benefit. It was a nerve-wracking decision for Imperial Oil Limited to make... but the go-ahead was given.

BUILDING THE "PILOT PLANT"

This "reclaimability" of solvent was tremendously important. Phenol was costly. If more than two-tenths of one per cent of it were lost in the refinery operation, the finished oil—even though far superior—would be too expensive. So the research men built a "pilot plant"—a miniature oil refinery—in which they could test the process in a practical way. They found they could recover only 98% of the Phenol solvent—a loss of 2%. But they were confident enough to promise a loss of not more than 2/10 of 1% in full-scale refinery operation.

A DAY THAT MADE HISTORY

Imperial Oil construction engineers went to work. Then came the great day! In full operation, the brand-new phenol plant showed solvent losses actually less than the research men's dream of 2/10 of 1%. The new Phenol Process oil ever made that would flow freely at far below zero—yet retain full body and viscosity at high speed temperatures.

ADOPTED 'ROUND THE WORLD

In one form or another, the new solvent process was almost universally adopted the world over... to bring to car and truck users everywhere the benefits of this great Canadian discovery. Up to 1939 (latest available figures) the Phenol extraction process, developed in Canada, was used to produce over one-third of all the oil processed by modern methods in refineries everywhere.

GREAT THINGS TO COME —FROM IMPERIAL

The Phenol Process is not the only long forward step made by Imperial Oil people in their efforts to make consistent improvements in the quality of their products. Today, the work of research goes on. Tomorrow, great new things will be manufactured from petroleum... new and better products which will contribute to the health, safety and better living of the Canadian people.

Martin Allows 4 Hits In Beating Athletics

Victoria Athletics fell afoul of the fast slants of right-hander Warren Martin last night and dropped their Western International League ball game at Tacoma 9 to 1. Martin was particularly stingy with his base hits, giving up only four and being robbed of a shutout in the fifth inning when first baseman Vic Buccola powered a 330-foot home run.

Although he struck out 13, Martin got himself into plenty of trouble as he gave up nine bases on balls. Doug Oliver worked the full game for Tacoma, was even more liberal with his passes, being charged with 11. The clubs left a total of 24 men stranded on the bases, Victoria being the worst offender with 13.

MARIONETTI OUT

Athletics continued to play with a revamped club, second baseman Beams Marionetti being on the sidelines with an injury suffered when he was hit by a pitched ball Wednesday night. Manager Ted Norbert, faced with a player shortage, was forced to use pitcher Swede Jensen in right field for part of last night's affair.

Stan Gray, new third baseman, is expected to join the Athletics today.

Salem and Wenatchee kept pace atop the standings with wins over Bremerton and Spokane, respectively. The leading Salem nine mowed down third place Bremerton 10 to 4 behind the three-hit pitching of Ken Wyatt. The Oregon chucker walked the bases loaded in the initial inning to account for two tallies but kept things well in check until the ninth when three Salem errors allowed another brace of runs.

Joe Vivalda held Spokane to

Jokers Whip Navy To Gain Tie For Boxla Leadership

Goals were on the plentiful side Thursday night when, Tom Carney's Jokers took the measure of the lowly Navy septette 28 to 11 in a senior boxla tiff in the box at Stevens Memorial Park. The triumph boosted the black-and-orange-sweatered Jokers into the leadership berth alongside Art McKim's Canadian Legion.

The Legionnaires and younger Foul Bay outfit clash tonight at 6:45 at the same spot. Victory for the war veterans clubs' representatives will give them sole occupancy of first place, but if the Foul Bayers emerge on top in the score column it will throw the leadership into a three-way tie.

Keenest portion of the game last night was the opening quarter. The teams finished this on an even footing with five goals apiece. Second-quarter play saw the Jokers rap in eight tallies to Navy's one. In the final half they chalked up 15 tallies, 10 more than the sailors.

Leading the Jokers' scoring parade were Douglas and Thomas with five markers each.

Teams and scorers follow:
Jokers—Gawley, Carter, Brown 1, Harding 2, Ovechark 2, Thomas 5, Douglas 5, Coates 2, Sage 4, Scott 3, McLennan 2, Reed 1, Druce 2.

Vancouver Links Stars To Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Entries for the $10,000 open golf tournament will be staged early next month on the Naklawa Country Club course as arriving at tournament headquarters. Headline sportsmen from Canada and the United States included in the early lists are:

Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Calif., former world professional tennis champion, who in the recent Canadian open golf tournament toured the second nine holes of the Beaconfield course in 29 strokes—seven under par.

Vancouver's Stan Leonard, longest-hitting Canadian professional who, golf-depositors say, seldom pokes his head east of the Rockies unless he's looking for something.

Phil Farley, 34, Ontario's 1945 amateur champion.

Ken Black, Vancouver, golfing son of the game's greatest putter a generation ago, Dave Black. One of his best performances was at Shaughnessy Heights in Vancouver eight years ago when United States pro dominated the scoring until Black turned in a last round 64 to win first place.

Freddie Wood, another Vancouver man who toured part of the golden American winter circuit a few years ago and performed in six tournaments against the best pros in the U.S. He never finished worse than fifth, and no other Canadian can make that statement.

Jules Huot, who wound up this year's Canadian open one-under-par to take fifth place.

Five C's vs. Albion, Beacon Hill Park.

Oak Bay vs. R.C.N., Windsor Park.

Line-ups follow:
Oak Bay—Wenman, Colquhoun, Scott, Morgan Jr., Morgan Sr., Jermine, Brewin, Tisdall, Jones, Sparks and Dobbie.

Albion—Barclay, McIlvenny, Leadbeater, Rowe, Pile, T. Oakman, J. Oakman, Freeman, Pritchard, Horner, Currie and Gibbons.

Byers Sparks K.V.'s To Shutout Ball Win

K.V.'s senior B men of A section fastballers, playing bang-up ball behind the shutout hurling of Byers, measured Canadian Legion 12 to 0 Thursday night. For eight consecutive innings Byers retired the Legion men in order. He was only nicked for a single hit, this in the ninth by Milliken.

Speed was in fine hurling form for Esquimalt Meat Market and sparked his team to a 4 to 1 verdict over Mollie's Bar-B-Q in the same division and section. Mollie's hit paydirt first, getting their only run in the fifth. The marketmen tallied all their runs after this. Raftery's homer in the bottom of the sixth providing two of the four runs.

In the senior B women of A section department, Etta Somner was credited with her second straight pitching victory, as Victoria Box beat Advertiser's. A four-run spurge in the seventh carried the box and paper girls through on the top side of the scoreboard.

In the women's B-B division, Army and Navy Taxi girls scored a 10 to 6 win over Spencers.

Bulla Takes Feature Award In Chicago Golf Tournament

CHICAGO (AP)—Towering Johnny Bulla of Chicago, fashioning a five-under-par 137, Thursday was top money winner in a complicated 36-hole warm-up for the $10,000 victory national open golf tournament which opened today at Medinah Country Club.

Bulla who yesterday added a one-under-par 70 to his 67 of Wednesday, failed to figure in any of the three preliminary championships—for pro-amateur, pro-lady and pro-senior titles—walked off with the top prize, a $1,000 war bond.

FERRIER HAS 67

The pro-amateur title went to an unheralded team, Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, who finished with a sizzling 67, equalling the course competitive record, and

San Francisco Streak Ends But Club Holds First Place

It wasn't old No. 13 that jinxed them, the San Francisco Seals will tell you, it was the spell of the banjo-eyed pitcher Frankie Dasso of the Hollywood Stars.

The four-hit pitching of Dasso, a one-time Seal, stopped the leaders of the Pacific Coast Baseball League 7 to 2 last night and snuffed the string of Seal victories one shy of the unlucky number.

The victory streak of 12 was the longest hayride for the Seals this season, and in defeat they had a consolation prize—retention of their precarious position at the top of the loop. For this San Francisco could thank the Los Angeles Angels, who shaded the challenging Oakland A's.

Brooklyn Players Robbed In Hotel

CINCINNATI (AP)—As though the playing field losses suffered by Brooklyn Dodgers on their western trip were not bad enough, two of their pitchers, Kirby Higbe and Hugh Casey, disclosed Thursday a burglar had entered their hotel room and robbed them as they slept.

The thief took $300 in cash from Higbe's trousers and his wallet containing his salary cheque.

Casey was robbed of $16 in cash and his pay cheque.

They had neglected to lock the door of their room when they retired, so it was easy for the sneak thief to enter.

High-Flying Cards Back In First Place

Brooklyn's fond dream of a 1946 National League baseball pennant has exploded into a grisly nightmare today with the St. Louis Cardinals back in first place and the Dodgers on a six-game losing binge.

Seven games ahead on the July 4th dividing line, the Dodgers have crashed toward their doom on a fatal western jaunt, while St. Louis, safe at home, has eaten up the entire lead and forged ahead by half a game.

All is not lost for the fatbush faithful if the Brooks can pull out of the tailspin before it becomes a habit, for the Red Birds still have two long eastern forays before the curtain drops. The discouraging factor to the Brooks is the certain fact that St. Louis appears to be leveling off for another of its famous stretch drives.

The Phillies, who kept St. Louis out of first place Wednesday, fought hard to bar the door last night, but finally lost, 5 to 4. Shoddy defensive play and inability to bunch hits off Ed Heuser sent the Dodgers down for the sixth time, 4 to 2, in Cincinnati. Kirby Higbe was charged with his third setback.

CHICAGO HALTED

Bill Lee halted Chicago Cubs' upward march with a six-hit, 9 to 3 decision for Boston Braves.

Pittsburgh broke Dave Loflo's jinx, downing New York, 7 to 3, after the rookie southpaw had beaten them four straight times. Boston Red Sox maintained their 11-game lead over New York by noosing out Chicago, 3 to 2.

Joe Gordon's two-run homer in the fourth inning was enough help for Mel Queen in recording his first triumph since his discharge from the United States army. Queen scattered eight St. Louis hits in his 3 to 1 success.

Gil Coats' speed enabled Washington to trim Detroit, 1 to 0, in a night game as the rookie outfielder flashed around the bases for an inside-the-park home run in the eighth inning.

Minor Baseball

A Victoria Minor Baseball Association midget game Thursday night, between Blue Line and Esquimalt Taxi, leadership nines, was a repeat of 10 days ago when the teams finished all even after seven innings of play. Last night the score stood at 6 to 6 when play was called due to darkness. Earlier the clubs tied 4 to 4.

A 15 to 3 decision was posted by Kerr Electric over Eagles in a bantam section tilt at Macdonald Park. The electricians' game was featured by the pitching of Charlie Skinner and good hitting by Don McGee and Ray Linden.

Child Star Spends Vacation At Oak Bay

Spending a two-month holiday at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel is blonde, nine-year-old Nora Griffiths, who was discovered at Santa Monica by a talent scout and who had just completed the picture, "A Perfect Marriage," starring David Niven and Loretta Young.

Her mother, Mrs. Basil Jones, said today the child actress was under contract for seven years with Paramount. Since her discovery two and a half years ago she has appeared in six other films, one of the most recent the murder mystery "The Unseen," with Joel McCrea and Herbert Marshall.

She said Nora's discovery took place at a children's party given by a producer's son. Since going into the movies Nora has received her education from a studio tutor.

For a year before the start of the war, Nora and her family lived in Europe, staying in Berlin, Paris and The Hague. They lived in London for two years after the outbreak and then returned to their Santa Monica home in 1941.

Her father is now in London.

Governor-General Recalls Canadian Troops Never Lost Battle

Canada is a great country because its people have made it so, Governor-General Alexander said before 250 members of the Canadian Club at a luncheon at the Empress Hotel today.

Reviewing the resources of the Dominion he referred to the hidden mineral wealth of the north, saying it would be found by Canadian enterprise and the wonders of modern science.

"During the war," Governor-General Alexander said, "it was my privilege to have under my command in the Mediterranean, your soldiers, sailors and airmen. Amongst all the warriors I had in my armies none were finer than your own sons."

He made special mention of the Sicilian campaign, pointing out that 13 Axis divisions faced 13 Allied divisions in the most difficult mountain country of Europe.

visiting her older brother, FO. Elvyn Jones of the R.A.F. Nora and her mother plan to remain here until Aug. 21 when they will go to Lake Louise. She expects to start another film in the fall.

"In the Sicilian campaign," he said, "we overran the island in 38 days and your 1st Division played a highly important role in the victory of the 8th Army."

"Canadians," he said, "never fought a battle they didn't win and every battle they won was vital to the success of the campaign as a whole."

He recalled Ortona where the Canadians had faced the 1st parachute division, one of the finest in the Nazi army, for a week-long engagement before victory was gained.

Turning to Britain's allies Governor-General Alexander said none had played a more important part than the United States whose contribution in the common war effort had been a deciding factor for victory.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

"This morning," he said, "when I looked out across the Strait of Juan de Fuca I could not but feel how fortunate we are in Canada to have such loyal friends and good neighbors close at hand. As I see it it is vital not only to ourselves but to the whole world that those friendly ships and fleets which were born on the battlefield shall be maintained and ever strengthened."

In conclusion he mentioned for the second time considering a future home in Canada about which he had been "thinking ever since landing in Halifax 100 days ago."

He assured Canadian Club members that whatever was the outcome of his island visit he and his family would look forward to coming back as soon and as often as possible.

Holiday From Radio Is Bergen's Dream; May Try Stage Again

After 10 years on radio with the same sponsor and a year and a half yet to go on his contract, ventriloquist Edgar Bergen feels he would like to take a holiday from the airwaves and go on the stage again for a year or so.

Mr. Bergen, with his wife, the former Frances Westram, was on a brief visit to Victoria today, and left this afternoon for Vancouver.

Performing before a radio audience or the camera is not the same as appearing before a theatre audience, Mr. Bergen finds, and he is now yearning for a return to the stage.

However, he is fully prepared to cope with the future advancements of radio, and although he has a large number of requests from would-be sponsors and has not made up his mind about them yet, he already has two new characters being created for television.

The new additions to the Bergen family of Charlie McCarthy, who did not accompany Mr. Bergen, and Mortimer and Effie Klinker, are Sarah and Tilly, whose characters are developed along the line of village gossip.

Mr. Bergen has a number of copies of the original Charlie, who first appeared with him in his school days.

"Of course, his body has worn out a number of times and been replaced and his clothes are always wearing out," Mr. Bergen said, "but the head remains the same."

ATTACHED TO CHARLIE

He uses the copies of Charlie for rehearsals quite often and says he finds little difference, except in the feel of the head. Of course, he added, "I suppose I really have quite an attachment for the original Charlie."

Mr. Bergen does not like the idea of complicated ventriloquist's dummies which display considerable animation. The animation spoils the effect of the performance and by its very nature the dummy betrays itself as he believes.

Like everyone else, Mr. Bergen finds he regards Charlie as an individual. A successful act could not be built up and continued lines could not be written unless Charlie were regarded as an individual, he said.

He has no intention of retiring. "I don't know what I would do if I did. I think it takes a lot more to make a success of retiring gracefully than it does to make a success of a business," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergen flew from California to Seattle in their private plane, but did not fly here, partly because Mrs. Bergen wanted to make the trip on the water and partly because Mr. Bergen did not feel it was the wisest thing to make a trip across a large stretch of water in a single-engine plane.

After visiting Vancouver the Hollywood couple will go to Banff for arrangements to be made there for accommodation, but Mr. Bergen is eager to get back to his plane. "I don't think there is any sport to match flying," he said.

Believe 3 Fires Set By Children

Children are believed to have started fires which burned out over three acres of bush and grass in the Mount Stephen district Thursday afternoon and this morning.

Deputy Fire Chief Robert Taylor said police have been alerted on the outbreak.

"The fires have threatened expensive property," he said. "A grass fire covering about an acre and a half off Mount Stephen Avenue at 9:30 this morning was started in four different places. Two other fires yesterday burned a large area of bushland near the Jewish Cemetery between Hillside Avenue and Acton Street, and off 1300 Hillside Avenue."

Two other grass fires were extinguished yesterday. They were at the Point Ellice Bridge and in the 800 block of Courtney Street.

Sanitch firemen attended a grass fire off Martindale Road near Saanichton at 10 last night.

Governor's Children Visit Royal Roads

Rose, Brian and Shane, the three children of Governor-General and Lady Alexander, paid a visit to the Royal Canadian Naval College at Royal Roads today.

With Elizabeth Creery, 12-year-old daughter of Capt. Wallace B. Creery, commanding officer at Royal Roads and naval aide to the Governor-General, the three children went swimming. Later they had tea with Capt. and Mrs. Creery.
